

March Lecture

Our lecturer is Paul Atterbury of Antiques Road Show fame. He is always a popular presenter and we anticipate a good attendance. This time Paul is telling us what of his prize possessions he would like to take with him if castaway on a desert Island.

Thursday 12 March. 5.45pm for 6pm start

St James Church Hall, cnr Russell and Mort Streets

This new venue is very comfortable and well received by all at the lecture in February

David Iliffe's interview with Paul will be broadcast on the ABC Local Radio's Breakfast Programme on the morning of the lecture at around 7am.

Last Lecture

Dennis Panchaud from ADFAS Sunshine Coast gave us an insight into how Australian women artists recorded war time without going to the front. The three official women war artists, Stella Bowen, Sybil Craig and Nora Heysen recorded how WWII affected the way people lived their lives at home and the jobs that women were required to take on.

PS. We had a slight hiccup with the mic. but Dennis adapted and he is still talking to us.

From Toowoomba Art Society

This month's exhibitions are Temptation, a broad range of works in multiple media by Maree Cameron, and Animal, prints by Aengus Munro. The galleries at 1 Godsall St. are open Tuesday to Friday, 9am -12 noon, and weekends, 10am to 2pm. Entry is free and all are welcome. You can also pick up information on our classes and membership (we currently have almost 250 adult members).

On Feb.18th a few of us joined an Oakey Art Group bus trip to the galleries at Cleveland, Redlands and Logan. Organised by Alan Williams of Oakey Art Group these art gallery trips are held every 2 months and there are often a few spare seats..
